

an old Cherokee Indian came from the

MISCELLANEOUS.

WORKING CLASS! ATTENTION. We are now prepared to furnish all those with employment at home, the whole of the time, or for their spare moments. Business new, light and profitable. Persons of either sex easily earn from 50 cents to $1.00 per evening, and proportionately more by devoting all their time to the business. Boys and girls earn nearly as much as men. That all who see this may send their address, and test the business, we make this offer, so such are not well satisfied we will send one dollar to pay for the trouble of writing. Fill particulars and outfit free. Address: GEORGE STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine. July the Atlantic his eyes were affected and nearly blind as he returned. He started with a party of thirty Indians, but the storm would enable them to reach the mainland. Swifted during the journey, he was known only as tradition. A number of Indians gave an account of the location of the mine and the course pursued to reach it.

Evidence of the truth of the tradition is given by the fact that the Indians of the First Cave have the name of Joe Fork, which flows the stream by Swift and his companions. On Paint Creek, in John Day's country, there has been found Indian remains, and the Indians of the First Cave near the same place was also found a silver brick, which had been melted, and evidently lost or dropped.

It is not known whether the Indians were blindfolded by the Indians when they conducted him to the cave in which the ore was melted, and the bricks were

The pair left two of their number to guard the entrance and returned to Hazel Green, concealing their wonderful discovery. Ascertaining who owned the land, they purchased the tract of five thousand acres and obtained a clear title to the entire property, including the 100-acre mine. The matter is still kept secret from the people in that section. The quantity of silver showing on the walls of the cave, indicate a vast extent of it in the mountain which rises above it about 100 feet. The cave is not directly connected with the Geological Survey, has tested the ore, and says it is a pure galena, and will yield $50 to the ton, with a considerable trace of gold in it, also. The latest report from Wolfcamp is that the discovery has extended the silver belt of the country, and that the citizens are scouring the country, searching

Thomas' body was brought to town by Mr. James Johnson, the jailer, yesterday evening, and was interred today. He leaves a young wife, having only been married about six months.

George Thomas came to this place from Williamburg and married a daughter of W. T. Pastures. His brothers were sent for and two of them have just arrived. They are all game men, and it is safe to predict that they will not let their brother's death go unavenged.

The result of this raid seems to have paralyzed the officers to such an extent that they don't know what steps to take.

Rev. I. H. Fallen, of the Christian church, organized a church at Point Union on Saturday night last, and, together with Rev. Jas. R. Nickell, of Menasha, has been holding a series of meetings with several additions as the result. Rev. Mr. Nickell is said to be an original and unique pulpit orator, and commands much interest.

Born—To the wife of Marion Center, July 29th, a boy, Porter Lee, weight fourteen pounds.

HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

SPENCER COOPER, Publisher.

HAZEL GREEN, KENTUCKY.

CURRENT TOPICS.

The society girl now carries her head crossed forward.

Mrs. Cleveland receives daily a most voluntarily mail.

Extra breeches are becoming popular on the Eastern coast.

There are now less than 700,000 slaves in the Empire of Brazil.

The total production of coffee in the world is about 60,000 tons.

The festivities of the Emperor of China's wedding will cost $5,000,000.

Twenty divers were recently granted in one day by a Georgia court.

More than 3,000 persons in New York make a living by street music.

Six election crooks have been sentenced to the penitentiary at Baltimore.

It is said that no relative, however distant, of the poet Moore is now living.

The Sunday-school membership of the world numbers nearly twenty million.

The Weekly Courier, of Hartford, Ct., is the oldest newspaper in this country, having had an uninterrupted career since 1784.

The breeches of our fathers are being talked of again as one of the reforms in dress.

Switzerland consumes more liquor per capita than any other country on the globe.

There is an alarming increase of diphtheria in the tenement-house district of

New York. Children are the greatest sufferers.

Geo. M. Prillman, the palace car potential, will visit Italy next month, and, it is said, will be created a Duke by King

Humbert.

An Indian woman named Shaw has patented a dust pan, on which she is making a fortune.

QUEEN NATALIE, a Bucharest dispatch says, returns her royal husband's letters unopened, and will consult the Czar about a divorce.

QUEEN VICTORIA paid $500,000 expense of entertaining her royal guests during the Jubilee.

TREASONING is not rated as printed matter by the German and Swedish postal authorities.

The Fourth of July was more generally observed throughout the country than for many years.

A FALL of two feet, from his porch to the ground, broke the neck of a resident of Bridgeville, Del.

There is a French company that has organized for the purpose of breeding Ara-can horses in Dakota.

HANNAH is now wearing the name of

"Fidelity" will be looked upon with several grains of indifference.

The statistics show that Philadelphia has 8,084 saloons, but only 470 Americans engaged in the business.

The Philadelphia Item says: "Columbier, college graduates and other green things are now plentiful."

The only millionaire of African lineage in this country is Ionia Lafon, a French quadrone, of New Orleans.

The colored soldiers' reunion, combining

Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, will be held in Louisville, Ky., July 30.

SOME Boston fiend has invented a fire cracker that far exceeds in noise any thing of the kind ever made.

EX-EMPEROR EUGENE, of France, has applied to the city of Naples for the position of nurse in one of its hospitals.

One hundred and sixty millions of Northern capital has sought investment in the South within the past year.

Now Utah is clamoring to get into the Union. Dakota is clamoring to get into

NEWS NOTES.

Edward Lamb, the comedian, died at Brooklyn a few days ago, aged fifty-eight years. He had been ill for several months with cancer of the stomach. Mr. Lamb began his career as an actor thirty-five years ago.

Wallace P. Ryan and J. F. Metcalf, post-office inspectors, and E. W. Alexander, superintendent of mails, Philadelphia post-office, have been appointed a commission to visit the principal postoffices of the country with a view to making an equitable adjustment of the salaries of clerks in postoffices. It is the object of the commission to adjust the salaries so that the same pay for the same positions will attach in all postoffices throughout the country.

It is stated that England has obtained for her imports into Cuba and Port Rico the same treatment as is prescribed by the Spanish-American convention. The arrangement, however, will remain in operation only during the present year.

The number of American residents and visitors at present in London is unprecedented, numbering nearly 20,000, and their large increase is attracting general attention. The time was not very long ago when the presentation of Americans to the Queen and their participation in public receptions, exhibitions, fairs, ceremonies, etc., were rare events, but now they have become the most common occurrences, and, indeed, such occasions occur nearly every day. Two unpublished letters from Luther to Brenz, and five from Melancthon to the Saxonian reformer, Lachmann, have been found in an old desk in a school at Hüllborn.

A fire which broke in Gage's foundry, St. Louis, on the other day, destroyed about thirty dwellings and many places of business before being subdued. Loss about $100,000.

Cornick & Whitehead, dry goods dealers, of Cheyenne, Wyo., had their store damaged to the extent of $125,000 by fire a few days ago. Insurance loss, $50,000. Loss on building, $15,000; fully insured.

The Bulgarian Sovereign is holding meetings with his ministers for the purpose of discussing the choice of a Prince of Bulgaria. Prince Alexander, the favorite candidate of the domestic forces, has been declined to accept re-election to the throne.

Rhodes Pease, prominently identified with lake marauding for many years, died at his home in Erie, Pa., a few days ago, in the seventy-fifth year of his age. He was the father of Alfred H. Pease, the well-known pianist and composer.

A bronze statue of Solomon Jurena, the founder of Milwaukee, presented to that city by W. H. Metcalf and C. F. Bruley, two prominent citizens, was unveiled in Jurena Park the other day, by Miss Mattie White, a granddaughter of the founder.

The works of the Conesus Lake Salt and Mining Company, at Lakeside, at the foot of Conesus Lake, near Rochester, N. Y., were totally destroyed by fire the other day, including the storehouse in which were stored 150,000 barrels of salt. Estimated loss $250,000.

Sir Lewis Carpi, judge of the Bankruptcy Court, London, has committed James Henry, the celebrated singer, to a fortnight's imprisonment for contempt of court. Mr. Henry failed to comply with the court's order to his appearance. The warrant has been suspended for a fortnight.

Alfred Allen, a bookkeeper, committed suicide at Alton, Ill., the other day. He was a married man, and without a situation, and he took refuge in his room in the Daney House. He told his former employer that he would kill himself and asked to be discharged.

The government receipts for this month thus far have been $3,000,000, while the expenditures for the month of June have been $2,000,000, leaving a surplus of $1,000,000. Charles Henry Braggenman, the well-known German publisher, is dead, aged seventy-seven.

Frank Matas Constanti at Palermo has telegraphed to the Department of State that two deaths, believed to have been caused by cholera, occurred a few days ago. Rev. A. S. Goldsmith, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Fredericktown, O., died at that place the other day, in the thirty-seventh year of his age. He was born in Toronto, Can., and was a thirty-second degree Mason. He was buried by the order of his church.

A terrible famine is reported from Kikefold, in Ireland, and appeals have come from there for assistance. There is great suffering among the people. Many have died, and thousands of cattle have perished for want of food. The distress is growing daily.

The report just issued to the public by the London Board of Trade shows the imports during the month of June to have decreased $1,000,000, as against the month of June, 1880, and indicates a similarly comparative decrease in the exports of $1,280,000.

During a thunder storm in Edgefield County, S. C., a few days ago, Miss Sallie Barnes, sixteen years old, was at the well drawing a bucket of water when she was struck by a bolt of lightning and instantly killed. Miss Barnes was the daughter of a well-to-do farmer and was the belle of the neighborhood.

The board of trustees of Delaware College, at an adjourned meeting at Dover, Del., the other day, decided by a vote of thirteen to twelve to defer action on the resignation of one of its members until the meeting in March, 1881. Hence, the faculty remains over for another year.

NEWS NOTES.

Queen Kapoleon left London for New York the other day.

The fund which was set aside for the relief of the Spanish-American war, at Louisville, has made an assignment. Liabilities about $100,000; assets about the same.

It is learned that the relations between Spain, England and the United States will remain in statu quo until the end of the year.

The paper warehouse of J. Q. Probie & Co., Franklin street, New York, was destroyed by fire a few days ago. The loss will aggregate about $150,000; partly insured.

The wage differences between the iron manufacturers and the workers of Baltimore have been settled by arbitration and neither time nor money was lost on either side. How much better this mode of settlement than by striking.

Free mail delivery began at Lima, Worcester, Newark and Tiffin with the first of the month. Several other of the smaller cities in Ohio will be entitled to free delivery as soon as the returns of the past fiscal year are filed with the government.

The United Nations Club, of London, comprising five German and two Swedish organizations, are arranging for a big exhibition of the products of the iron and steel industry to be held in Chicago to relieve the Anarchists under sentence of death.

The Belgian Chamber of Deputies has adopted a bill declaring two-fifths of the salaries of judges, and one-fifth of free fees (to be taken even in legal process). Clerks' salaries are made free from liability of seizure, unless they exceed 100 francs.

A new Russian coercive measure directed against government employees in Poland to forward frequently to St. Petersburg complete lists of resident foreigners. Jews are not allowed to remain in St. Petersburg longer than a week, and are not allowed to enter corporations or academies.

A Tiffin, Ohio, photographer, with light from two ordinary gas jets, succeeded in obtaining a negative of a night-blooming cereus. He infused its beautiful petals. The flower, as is known, blooms only at night, and the negative obtained is said to be the only one of its kind.

It is learned from St. Petersburg that twelve Nihilists were arrested near the residence of Kravtchinsky, and one of the czar and his family were beginning their journey to Finland.

Over one hundred English, Scotch and Welsh members of the House of Commons have signed a memorial to the President and Congress of the United States in favor of referring the American dispute to arbitration for settlement. It is probable that a deputation of members of the House will be sent to London to present the memorial to Mr. Cleveland.

Telegrams from various parts of Europe convey the belief that the Sultan will not affix his signature to the Egyptian convention as per agreement.

A large number of people in the garden of the night-blooming cereus unfolding in Zanesville, O., was witnessed on a recent evening. The flowers were magnificent specimens of their kind and will be preserved.

General Boulanger's military organ has started a campaign to the effect that the government has ordered the troops to fill their knapsacks with cartridges on the occasion of the July 14th anniversary of the battle of the Marston, to suppress any popular movement in Boulanger's favor.

Theory link, who disappeared as mysteriously from his home in Hopewell township, Licking County, Ohio, a month ago, by letting himself down from a bedroom window with a rope, has been discovered working in a stone quarry in the neighborhood. He gives no reason for his disappearance.

In a work on "The European in Hot Climates," recently published by a Belgian naval surgeon, Dr. de Groot, Central Africa in general and the Congo in particular are dealt with. With regard to the Congo, the author considers the climate of the valley to be similar to that of the English and Dutch Indies.

The effect of the coke strike has been an increase of large numbers of people in April and still more in May, and a large increase to follow in case of the threatened strike in the Pittsburgh mills. Even the coal supply is becoming an important question when the American workers strike, and the pauper labor of Europe gets the permission to enter the market.

Another of the bondholders has been compelled to go to jail on account of the insolvency of Moravia, who has committed suicide. The fourth of the bondholders, Van der Vennell, warden at the insane asylum, The wife of Commissioner Wren was on his bond, and the States of New York have her many schedules were becoming insolvent, caused a capias to be issued for Van der Vennell's arrest.

TEMPERANCE.

THE NERVOUS SYSTEM.

Telegraph Wires All Through the Body—How Alcohol Affects Them—"Telegraph wires all over me!" exclaimed John, in response to something I had said. "I'll never believe it."

"Indeed! But hadn't you better wait awhile before you say that. Shut your eyes."

"Now, how did you shut them? You don't know, do you? Let me tell you. When I spoke, the air was set in motion, and began to make waves, one striking against another, as the waves of the sea do. These waves entered your ear, where a little tiny drum is stretched to receive them, and this was made to vibrate. The waves from the drum are in turn taken up through a perfect maze of telegraph wires into the brain, and the brain, which is the head telegraph office, at once knows my wish, which is: 'Shut John's eyes!'"

The chief clerk in the office then sends a message to both of your eyelids, saying: "Go down!" and in an instant they obey.

"But let me see if there are any other telegraph wires in your body besides these."

John shut his eyes, and I touched first his nose, then his little finger, then his leg, and finally his hair; and each time he says he can feel my touches.

"Of course you can feel them, for all over your body these little telegraph wires are to be found, and they send up in a flash the message to the head office, the brain, saying: 'Something has touched me on the nose, finger, leg, and hair!'"

These simple experiments fully convince John that he is filled with telegraph wires. Edith and William are also deeply interested, and watch the proceedings as closely as John.

"Now, Edith, I wish to ask you a question. Suppose I were to go out and cut a telegraph wire in two, could a message be sent over it?"

"Of course not," is her immediate reply.

"Suppose it were covered up with cloth, or twisted around a tree, could a message then go through it?"

She hesitates a moment before she replies: "perhaps it would and perhaps it wouldn't."

"Well, it might go through, but most probably it wouldn't. Now, did you ever see a man who couldn't use his arm or leg, and yet to look at it there would be nothing at all to be seen that would indicate disease?"

"Yes, I know a man Mr. C., whose left arm is paralyzed so that he cannot move it at all."

"Paralyzed?" I exclaim. "What does that mean?"

"Why," replies thoughtful William, "paralysis is simply the stoppage of those telegraph wires you've been speaking about."

"You're right, Will. But what is the name we give to these wires?"

"Nerves," he quietly explains, while John and Edith look in wonderment at my allowing him to suggest such a thing.

"But so it is."

One case out of ten he will bring out. This is a fearful coral reef."

"The nerves of his tongue are paralyzed."

"And so might I give you many other similar illustrations of the way in which alcohol paralyzes the body, not only in any one part, but in all, and so injures the body. My advice, therefore, is: 'Don't drink any liquid that contains alcohol.'"

Recd. Geo. W. Jones, in Union Signal.

TEMPERANCE ITEMS.

POST-MORTEMS of over two hundred bodies of drunkards showed that is a large majority of them there was an enlarged and fatty infiltrated condition of the liver, hardening of the kidneys and chronic catarrhal inflammation of the mucous membrane of the stomach.

—Foot's Health Monthly.

LOOKING back upon a life of nearly fifty years, I can recall those who started with me. All of those who were sober and industrious and saved their money now own their own households, but every one of those who drank is dead. If there is one place in the world where drinking can not be indulged in it is on a railway.—Chamney M. Deane.

A RESOLUTION was adopted at the Middlesex (South) Congregational Conference, held at Marlborough, Mass., to the effect that it is the duty of every church of Christ not only to insist rigidly upon the practice of total abstinence by its members, but also to make special efforts for the suppression of the evil in the community at large, and to make these efforts a part of their regular church-work.—N. E. Herald.

"YOUR man, I say to you, looking back to the fire when I lay searching, looking back at the past, and standing as I do now under the arch of the bow, one end of which rests in darkness, and the other on the sunny slopes of paradise, I say to you, my brother, 'I have not the accused thing! and God forbid that you should ever suffer as I have suffered, or be called to fight as I have fought for body and for soul.'"

John B. Gough.

The following from J. D. Davis, D. D. of Japan, proves that the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union is needed in all missionary lands: "Mrs. Leavitt, who was here in the interest of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union during last summer and fall, did a grand work in interesting the women and many of the leaders of Japan in the cause, not only of Temperance, but of purity and of the elevation of women generally. One of our leading day-laborers workers said to me the other day that Mrs. Leavitt was a second Commodore Perry to the women of Japan."

Every physician of ability is fully aware of the effect of beer drinking upon the prognosis of disease. He knows that acute diseases in such persons take on more violent symptoms and proceed more rapidly to a fatal termination. Military experience has also demonstrated the fact that habitual drinkers of alcohol in any form suffer more severely than others from wounds and a few other treatments. It will require much more convincing proof than that before us to outweigh such old and well authenticated evidence as to the injurious effects of all intoxicating beverages.—N. E. Herald.

"Fight or Die."

The liquor interest will find when it comes to analyze the situation closely, that though it may have become necessary to "fight or die," there is nothing like certainty that any amount of fighting possible will avert the necessity of dying, so far as the liquor traffic is concerned.

The American people are slow to move, slow to relinquish their pet foibles, slow to make up their minds to great changes, even where such changes mean great reforms. Their conservatism involves a respect for vested rights so strong that sometimes they make the mistake of extending protection to vested wrongs. But this condition is not lasting. When they do realize the seriousness of the situation, when they do comprehend the righteousness of the cause, urged upon them by the facts of their own sacrifice, and too united for any opposition. The Temperance movement has grown slowly until quite recently, but it is becoming a wave more than a stream of tendency to-day, and it is this, though it may have been a serious calamity which marked the operation of the "bazaar telegraph" in India during the mutiny. At such times community sensibility rises to strange heights, and popular determination assumes a formidable aspect.

In view of the existing condition, it may well be doubted whether the liquor interest can do itself much good by the only kind of fighting within its power; whether, indeed, any victories so obtained are not overshadowed by the Temperance advance and so hasten the end.—N. E. Herald.

HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

SPENCER COOPER, Publisher.

HAZEL GREEN, - KENTUCKY.

THE POOR AND THE RICH.

She covered him over, her five-year old; "I never knew you were so kind," she said. As she petted the curls of his boyish head; "No feet'll be bare in the w'ater cold."

"No crying for bread, no weari'ous hours Of labor ill paid, 'till the sun is down; No murr'ing off when the work is done; Shut up from the sun, and the birds, and flowers."

From the rich and the lofty, no look of pride; There'll be time to study and time to grow In the beautiful gardens the angels know It is well, it is well, that my boy has died."

She covered him over, her five-year old; "He is safe, he is safe," she said; said, "As I satisfied the folds of his narrow bed, And kissed the cheeks that were white and cold. The room was as gorgeous as palace hall; And fragrant with flowers of the richest hue; Camellias, and roses, and violets blue; And golden the hangings upon the wall."

"He will never be spoiled by a life of ease; No sin will entangle his sunny hair; Or crumple his cheek that is now so fair; No wife in her sorrow will drink the tears."

"Of a poisonous can, I am safe, my child! My tenderest one! I am satisfied; Ah! better, far better, my boy had died Than living in pleasure by my dear child."

For rich, and for poor, there are ills to bear; The waters are bitter, far both to drink; There are sorrows and burdens from which we shrink; And the angels have weighed us an equal share."

—Sarah K. Bolton, in Tynda's Companion.

AT THIRTY.

At thirty years, it is enough for me To wish I was what I hoped to be! It is enough, storm-broken on the plain, To turn the spirit's wheel, I can get up— Low down, to stir the music of the spheres— At thirty years!

The half of life has passed and half remains; O'er more, more, I break the chains Of circumstance! To fill this page of Time With characters of glory, and to climb The steep ascent, with songs in place of tears, At thirty years!

The clouds will pass; the sun will dazzle thee! No rose-flashed lightning that pierces the blue; Or icy discharges, to letter on the plain— Irresistible, to grave at toll and pain— To be the slave of sloth and sordid fears, At thirty years!

—J. R. Richmond, in Temple Bar.

HELEN LAKEMAN;

—OR—

The Story of a Young Girl's Struggle With Adversity.

BY JOHN R. MURPHY, AUTHOR OF "THE BAKER OF BEDFORD," "WALTER BROWNFIELD," ETC.

[Copyright, 1894, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.]

CHAPTER XV.—CONTINUED.

Helen burst into tears, clasped her arms about the neck of the jailer's wife and felt sobbing on her bosom. It was so sweet after receiving such cold, cruel treatment, to find one warm, sympathetic heart on which she could rely. Mrs. Bridges consoled her, kissed away her tears, and told her to trust in the Lord and she would come triumphantly out of all her troubles in the end.

Helen took her place as one of the jailer's family, and Mrs. Bridges kept her constantly at her side. When the prisoner took down the family Bible and opening at Deuteronomy, fourth chapter, thirtieth and thirty-first verses, she felt that the hand of God had surely directed her to the blessed promise contained in those two verses.

"When thou art in tribulation, and all these things are come upon thee, even in the latter days, if thou turn to the Lord thy God and shall be obedient unto His voice (for the Lord thy God is a merciful God) He will not forsake thee, nor forget the covenant of thy fathers, which he swore unto thee."

Helen closed the Bible, and clasping her hands remained for a moment in silent prayer. How light and joyous her heart at that moment. A true Christian can not be downcast and sad, for if death swoops at every earthly friend, they know they are only gone to a better land. If clouds of darkness, sorrow and suffering surround them, they know that there is a Heaven where darkness, darkness, sorrow and suffering never come. Helen was happy at that moment. Her tears were dried, and a sweet smile was upon her face. If she were sent to the penitentiary she would go cheerfully and pray God to have mercy on the false witnesses who had worked her ruin. She could forgive even the Arnolds. She could pray God to forgive them, and bless them with happiness. Do you doubt this, reader? If you do, you know nothing of a truly converted Christian heart. There was no bitterness in Helen's soul. She was Christ-like.

It was on Monday when Mr. Styles, the prosecuting attorney, came to see her. Mr. Styles was a man who always went into a case to win, regardless of the right or wrong he might do. There was a young girl, to be sure, one who had many temptations, no doubt, but who had violated the law. He determined to prosecute her. Of course, youth and beauty would be in her favor. Then he would not insist on a long sentence. Two years for a bracelet would do, but in order to obtain cleme'ncy from Mr. Styles she must plead guilty.

Helen sat in silence and listened to the shrewd lawyer. He began then a series of questions, which would have entangled any one less innocent than herself. She answered him in a straightforward manner, giving him a history of her life.

"Now, Helen," said the lawyer, becoming exasperated, "you are very shrewd, the shrewdest, in fact, I ever met; but it will avail you nothing. We have the proof solid against you. Come, now, is it not better to confess up and get only two years, than go to trial and get ten?"

"Mr. Styles," said Helen, "I will not confess to a falsehood, though you sentence me to penal servitude for life."

Mr. Styles went away scratching his head and declaring she was the shrewdest and most hardened criminal he had ever seen. Wise, indeed, he must have been to be unable to distinguish between unimpaired innocence and the brazen defiance of crime?

He was scarcely gone as a light vehicle rattled up to the door of the jail, and to his surprise, Helen saw Clarence and Rosa Stuart jump out. Rosa, tears streaming down her cheeks, burst into the room where Helen was, and clasped her in her arms.

"Oh, Helen, Helen, my dear sister—for you should be my sister—how you have suffered!"

—J. R. Richmond, in Temple Bar.

AT THIRTY.

At thirty years, it is enough for me To wish I was what I hoped to be! It is enough, storm-broken on the plain, To turn the spirit's wheel, I can get up— Low down, to stir the music of the spheres— At thirty years!

The half of life has passed and half remains; O'er more, more, I break the chains Of circumstance! To fill this page of Time With characters of glory, and to climb The steep ascent, with songs in place of tears, At thirty years!

The clouds will pass; the sun will dazzle thee! No rose-flashed lightning that pierces the blue; Or icy discharges, to letter on the plain— Irresistible, to grave at toll and pain— To be the slave of sloth and sordid fears, At thirty years!

—J. R. Richmond, in Temple Bar.

HELEN LAKEMAN;

—OR—

The Story of a Young Girl's Struggle With Adversity.

BY JOHN R. MURPHY, AUTHOR OF "THE BAKER OF BEDFORD," "WALTER BROWNFIELD," ETC.

[Copyright, 1894, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.]

CHAPTER XV.—CONTINUED.

Helen burst into tears, clasped her arms about the neck of the jailer's wife and felt sobbing on her bosom. It was so sweet after receiving such cold, cruel treatment, to find one warm, sympathetic heart on which she could rely. Mrs. Bridges consoled her, kissed away her tears, and told her to trust in the Lord and she would come triumphantly out of all her troubles in the end.

Helen took her place as one of the jailer's family, and Mrs. Bridges kept her constantly at her side. When the prisoner took down the family Bible and opening at Deuteronomy, fourth chapter, thirtieth and thirty-first verses, she felt that the hand of God had surely directed her to the blessed promise contained in those two verses.

"When thou art in tribulation, and all these things are come upon thee, even in the latter days, if thou turn to the Lord thy God and shall be obedient unto His voice (for the Lord thy God is a merciful God) He will not forsake thee, nor forget the covenant of thy fathers, which he swore unto thee."

Helen closed the Bible, and clasping her hands remained for a moment in silent prayer. How light and joyous her heart at that moment. A true Christian can not be downcast and sad, for if death swoops at every earthly friend, they know they are only gone to a better land. If clouds of darkness, sorrow and suffering surround them, they know that there is a Heaven where darkness, darkness, sorrow and suffering never come. Helen was happy at that moment. Her tears were dried, and a sweet smile was upon her face. If she were sent to the penitentiary she would go cheerfully and pray God to have mercy on the false witnesses who had worked her ruin. She could forgive even the Arnolds. She could pray God to forgive them, and bless them with happiness. Do you doubt this, reader? If you do, you know nothing of a truly converted Christian heart. There was no bitterness in Helen's soul. She was Christ-like.

It was on Monday when Mr. Styles, the prosecuting attorney, came to see her. Mr. Styles was a man who always went into a case to win, regardless of the right or wrong he might do. There was a young girl, to be sure, one who had many temptations, no doubt, but who had violated the law. He determined to prosecute her. Of course, youth and beauty would be in her favor. Then he would not insist on a long sentence. Two years for a bracelet would do, but in order to obtain cleme'ncy from Mr. Styles she must plead guilty.

Helen sat in silence and listened to the shrewd lawyer. He began then a series of questions, which would have entangled any one less innocent than herself. She answered him in a straightforward manner, giving him a history of her life.

"Now, Helen," said the lawyer, becoming exasperated, "you are very shrewd, the shrewdest, in fact, I ever met; but it will avail you nothing. We have the proof solid against you. Come, now, is it not better to confess up and get only two years, than go to trial and get ten?"

"Mr. Styles," said Helen, "I will not confess to a falsehood, though you sentence me to penal servitude for life."

Mr. Styles went away scratching his head and declaring she was the shrewdest and most hardened criminal he had ever seen. Wise, indeed, he must have been to be unable to distinguish between unimpaired innocence and the brazen defiance of crime?

He was scarcely gone as a light vehicle rattled up to the door of the jail, and to his surprise, Helen saw Clarence and Rosa Stuart jump out. Rosa, tears streaming down her cheeks, burst into the room where Helen was, and clasped her in her arms.

"This will bring him here," said Rosa, "Now, Clarence, what is the number of the street?"

Clarence felt in his pockets and with a look of dismay, said: "I'm blent if I ain't lost it."

CHAPTER XVI. HOW STUART AND HER MOTHER.

Rosa seemed far more vexed than Helen at the loss of her mother's address. Clarence still fumbled in his pockets, and growled savagely as only a great awkward boy can.

"Brother Warren gave it to me before he left," said Clarence, thrusting his thumb into his vest-pocket then the other, while his face was contorted as only a puzzled fawn can be. "I had on these very clothes when he gave it to me. I was to give it to you, Helen, and you were to write to him; but I forgot it. He's written to you, I know—said he would." All the time Clarence was speaking these short jerky phrases, he was rummaging his pockets, "but somehow I've been getting your letters, I couldn't you'd never get one of them, and told him so."

Clarence had to give it up; the address could not be found, but he would take the letter home with him and try to ascertain the address from his father.

"I'll back the letter and forward it, don't you fear," he said to Helen.

"There is one thing I am very anxious about," said Helen.

"What is it?" Clarence asked.

"My brother, you know he is so frail and so young. I want to know that he is comfortable, and then, by my trials ever so great, I can endure them cheerfully."

"Where is Amos?" Rosa asked.

"I left him at Mr. Arnold's. They would not let him come with me, and said they would take the best of care of him."

"That ain't no fit place for him," said Clarence. "I'm goin' to find another place for him. When is your trial?"

"Next Monday."

"All right. I'll be back then if not before."

"Don't forget poor little Amos. I can get along very well if he is only comfortable. I fear he was taking fever when I left, having been in the rain the night before. He had a severe cold."

"He'll be all right; don't give yourself any trouble."

Vain was Clarence's boast. Helen's arrest, her innocence and the coming preliminary examination so engrossed his mind that little Amos was forgotten almost before they left Newton.

"I'll find out his address and bring it to you, Helen," said Clarence when he became convinced that he could not find the slip of paper upon which it was written. "I'll address the letter myself and send it off."

The vehicle containing the brother and sister rattled away from the village just as the sun was setting. The road to Sandy Fork neighborhood lay through a wooded portion of the country, and the fantastic shadows of gigantic trees, huddled and appalling night. From these dark depths one might almost expect to see some Robin Hood, or forest outlaw appear. Clarence had no fears, but Rosa shuddered. The dark forests she had always feared, and when the horse started to climb the road she felt a flutter at her heart and with terror clung to the arm of her strong brother.

"Oh Clarence, Clarence, what is that?" she cried.

"Where, what?"

"There on the right, don't you see a horrid thing standing at the roadside?"

Clarence looked, and through the gathering twilight he beheld a tall, gaunt form, clothed in rags, with long, disheveled hair, and eyes which seemed to be looking cruelly at him.

"Oh, Heavens! help me!" groaned the girl, hushing her face in her hands, as the tall, haggard form stepped out in the road and, raising one horny hand, pointed her finger at the occupants of the vehicle, and said:

"Heed—don't tell any one. I got away from the lunatic. They wanted to scalp me, but I got away. If you tell them, they'll be on my track again."

"He quit, Rose," said Clarence, who understood now what it was, "it's only crazy Jane—she's got away from the poor-house keeper."

"But oh, brother, she looks so awful, I'm afraid of her."

The wandering mind of the lunatic seemed only to catch at a part of what Rose said:

"Yes, yes, I'm afraid, too. Don't tell them I'm here, and I can escape 'em. They kill and scalp people. They cut off half my head, and put on half a sheep's head. I'm a woman half the time and a sheep half the time."

"Poor woman!" sighed Rose, her pity overcoming her fear.

"They feed me on grass when I'm a sheep," said crazy Jane, "and I don't get enough when I'm a woman. They beat me, too. But I know them. Their chief is Bill Jones and his chief is Jim Arnold."

The brother and sister started, very naturally, at hearing the name of a man mentioned whose bad qualities they had been discussing. Crazy Jane now seemed to become more excited, and continued:

"There's times when I'm human and I hear 'em. They bring little children there and make 'em lambs, that they may have lamb stew. I heard 'em and I wasn't a sheep then. I saw the tears trickle down his cheeks, then they said they would have the land fixed sure. But I'm a sheep now, and must hunt the green pasture." Then bleating in imitation of a sheep the insane creature ran away.

Rosa breathed more freely when she had disappeared in the dark woods. At the top of the next hill they met Bill Jones and his brutal hired man hunting for the escaped lunatic. Clarence directed them as best he could where crazy Jane had gone, and then drove home. He was not on good terms with the keeper of the poor-house, so exchanged a few words as possible.

When they reached home Rosa found her mother anxiously awaiting their return. She judged from the look of anxiety upon her mother's face that there had been a stormy afternoon at home. The father was not to be seen, and she thought best to ask nothing about him at present.

"Come in, Rose," said Mrs. Stuart, leading her to the parlor. "No words were spoken until the weeping of the girl had been removed, and then the mother anxiously said:

"Did you see her?"

"Yes."

"Where?"

"At the jail."

"Oh, Rose, have they really got her in jail?"

"Yes, mother, though she is permitted to stay with the family of the jailer."

Mrs. Stuart was silent. Her large eyes were fixed on the carpet. She wanted to ask something more, but almost feared to. At last she said, in a tone of desperation:

"Rose, how does she bear it?"

"With Christian resignation and fortitude, mother. Oh, mother, I never saw a more angelic picture of Christian faith than that girl's face. From the Bible she gathers hope and happiness, even in the darkest hour. She admits that the bracelet was found in her possession, but says she can not account for it. She expects imprisonment, and yet she says there is such a world of consolation in the Scriptures that she is willing to forgive those who were first in her persecutions."

Mrs. Stuart sat long gazing upon the carpet. The lighted lamp shone brightly in the room, and an expression of pain could be seen upon the good woman's face. She was humiliated. There was a great struggle going on in her breast, and she was yet undecided.

"Poor girl," she sighed. "Do you think she is innocent?"

"Yes, mother, I know it."

"How do you know it?" asked the father, who, as he entered the apartment, "how do you know anything about it, I would like to know?"

"No one with such perfect resignation, such supreme confidence in God's goodness, could be a thief. Thieves and criminals don't read the Bible."

"Yes, they do, yes, they do," said Mr. Stuart, with a frown upon his face. "They always do that to make mischief think they are too pious to do a bad act. I have very obedient children to be hanging around jail-birds against my wishes; very obedient, indeed."

Rose, knowing it was useless to try to get on friendly terms with her father, rose, retired to her room, and after offering a prayer for the poor girl, went to bed.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

—Mind-reading, it is said, leads to matrimony. It would be more popular if it would only lead to matrimony.

—No one with such perfect resignation, such supreme confidence in God's goodness, could be a thief. Thieves and criminals don't read the Bible."

"Yes, they do, yes, they do," said Mr. Stuart, with a frown upon his face. "They always do that to make mischief think they are too pious to do a bad act. I have very obedient children to be hanging around jail-birds against my wishes; very obedient, indeed."

Rose, knowing it was useless to try to get on friendly terms with her father, rose, retired to her room, and after offering a prayer for the poor girl, went to bed.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

—Mind-reading, it is said, leads to matrimony. It would be more popular if it would only lead to matrimony.

—No one with such perfect resignation, such supreme confidence in God's goodness, could be a thief. Thieves and criminals don't read the Bible."

"Yes, they do, yes, they do," said Mr. Stuart, with a frown upon his face. "They always do that to make mischief think they are too pious to do a bad act. I have very obedient children to be hanging around jail-birds against my wishes; very obedient, indeed."

PERSONAL AND LITERARY.

—The Pall Mall Gazette has adopted the American term "elevators" in place of the shorter English name for the machine, "lifts."

—Mr. Elliot Stock has secured the balusters from the staircase of the house in Fetter Lane in which Dryden is said to have lived, and of which the destruction has been completed.

—When ex-Senator Thurman goes on a journey he takes Mrs. Thurman along to keep off the newspaper men. She is said to have the most charming manner of showing a man the door.

—Napoleon's traveling carriage, which was captured at Waterloo by Field Marshal Blucher, is still in existence near Silchester, Hampshire, and left the carriage a short time before its capture, abandoning his hat, sword and some valuables.

—Fred Douglass recently said in Paris: "I have traveled through most of the countries of Europe, and whenever I am in the cars, in the theaters, in the ball-rooms, wherever in fact, I find that I am treated always with courtesy, and not rarely with distinguished consideration. As far as I can see, a man is judged over here without any regard to the color of his hair, his eyes or his skin."

—Dr. J. H. Johnson of Reimersburg, Pa., has in his possession a table which was once the property of William Penn. It is solid walnut and has two folding leaves. It is oval in shape. There are two drawers, one in each end. The table is four feet long, six inches long and five feet wide when the leaves are raised. It is very heavy and solidly built, with no attempt at ornamentation. An offer of $500 was refused for it.

—It is usual at Cambridge to annually give a handsome sum—I think it is £100—for the best poem. Some years ago a waggish undergraduate, for a mere jest, made a poem by piecing together fragments of all those which had for many years been the winners. He expected that the committee would select it, and throw it aside. What was his horror at learning that he had been adjudged the prize and that his name was published all over England as that of the victor. How he got out of the scrape is now not, but no harm came to him that ever I heard of.

—London Letter.

HUMOROUS.

—The Use of the Negative.—British Working-man—"Ain't none o' you chaps see no pipe a-knockin' about none o' these ere sheds nowhere?"

—Sunday-school teacher in Litchfield told his infants to ask any questions they had in their minds, and a little one asked: "When is the circus coming?"—Christian at Work.

—Charlie—"There, now, Em, Mr. Bunt has ain't a bit bigger than pa." Emma—"Well, as well as it is of it?" Charlie—"You said last night that Mr. Bunt had the thickest head you ever saw."—Boston Beacon.

—Wife—"I don't see why women want to wear high hats, anyhow." Husband—"Neither I, my dear." Wife—"Yes, it's perfectly senseless. They don't cost a bit more than the others, and some of them not nearly so much."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

—Where do you get all the funny things you print in your paper?" asked the inquisitive subscriber. "Out of my head, sir, out of my head," curtly replied the bothered editor. "Do you really, now?" said the inquisitive subscriber, pityingly. "Well, I rather had an idea that something was wrong, but I didn't think it was so bad as that."—Somerville Journal.

—Wife—"I have joined the Audubon Society and think it a grand association." Husband—"Well, if I belonged to such a society, I would live up to its rules." W.—"What do you mean? I don't wear any part of a bird on my bonnet." H.—"Nobody says anything about your bonnet. It's your face decoration I refer to." W.—"My face! How is that decorated?" H.—"Why, with crows' feet."—Boston Budget.

—What the Neighbors Said.—A farmer's son was killed by a horse. Whose maddest caused his parent pain, And who was known about the town As one who'd never do well as he did, So, when the father, through the door His offering flung with wistful air, The neighbors said: "As oft before, Poor Brown has heaved a heavy sigh."

—Boston Budget.

—A new reporter has joined the staff. He is writing up the resignation, which was the resuscitation of a half-drowned woman. The city editor looked over the scribbled shoulder, and this is what he read: "The fair form lay on the dock, and her short hair, 'till, tuck, young man," said the city editor, "name of your Zola realism; drop that pants business." The new reporter smiled softly and wrote on. "And her short pants for breath showed that consciousness was returning."—Williamsport (Pa.) Breakfast Table.

THE HERALD

Has a larger circulation in the mountains Eastern Kentucky than any paper in the State, and merchants and others who wish to secure the trade of Eastern Kentucky, will find it the best advertising medium.

Advertising Rates.
25 Transient advertisements, 25 cents an inch first insertion; 25 cents an inch for each subsequent insertion.

STANDARD ADVERTISEMENTS.
1 inch, 1 year, $5.00; 1/2 inch, 1 year, $3.00; 3 inches, 1 year, $12.00; 1/4 inch, 1 year, $1.50; 1/8 inch, 1 year, $1.00; 1/16 inch, 1 year, $0.50.

250 Special rates on large advertisements (local notices) 50c a line, with 5 per cent. off for long time.

250 Marriage and death notices free; tributes of respect and obituaries 5 cents a line.

250 Announcements of candidates for State or District office, $10; County officers, $5; calls on persons to become candidates and their answers, 5 cents a line. Payable invariably in advance.

250 No name will be entered upon the Subscription Book until paid for, and all subscriptions are stopped at expiration of time paid for, notice of which will be indicated by a cross mark (X) on the margin in front of your name. A prompt renewal only will keep the name in the book.

SPENCER COOPER.

GARRISON, HE SELLS CHEAP

HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE, STOVES, TINWARE, CUTLERY, MASONIC TEMPLE, ME. STERLING, KY.

CURRENT TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

Rob Rose of Lacy Creek has the fever.

John M. Rose, our efficient County School Superintendent, is laid up with erysipelas.

Dud Swango is lying quite low with fever, but little hope of his recovery is entertained.

Mrs. White and daughter Miss Minnie, of West Liberty, are visiting relatives and friends in this place.

Sold us $2.00 and we will print 250 Dividends and 250 sheets of writing paper and mail to you address.

For Sale: A new combined reaper and mower. Will trade it to young horse, mule or cow. Apply to 223 JOHN H. PERRY.

Every business man in the mountains ought to use printed stationery, when he can get 250 city-dividends and 250 sheets of paper for only $2.00. Send us an order.

When a man is constipated, with loss of appetite, headache, take one of Dr. J. H. McLean's Little Liver and Kidney Pills. To be given to take and will cure you. 25 cents a box. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

Junior Swango is progressing finely with his school on Red River. In the district forty-nine scholars are enrolled, and of these forty-five have attended during the two weeks school has been in session.

If your kidneys are inactive, you will feel hot and irritable, even in the most perfect weather, and in the most perfect health. Dr. J. H. McLean's Little Liver and Kidney Pills, will set you right again. $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

A heavy vote was polled in this county for three of the candidates for Governor. Tom Stamper, 235, voted for Buckner; Green Lacy, 245, voted for Bradley; and Robt. Cummins, 225, voted for Fox.

If you suffer from pain on moving the eyes, or cannot bear bright light, and find your sight weak and failing, you should promptly use Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Eyes. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

Thomas Tate, deputy sheriff of this county, called in on our office last Saturday and subscribed for THE HERALD to be sent to James Buchanan, who is now confined in the Mt. Sterling jail under sentence of death.

Persons who lead a life of exposure are subject to rheumatism, neuralgia and lameness and will find a valuable remedy in Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment; it will banish pain and subdue inflammation. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

Everything went "merry as a marriage bell" at the election at this place last Monday, and notwithstanding the fact that "spiked" blackberry wine was sold no drunken men were seen on the streets. Neither was there a quarrel or a fight.

John H. Pierett left for Louisville on Monday night last, having been summoned as a witness in the case of Childers vs. Little. The latter is charged with obtaining some bonds under false pretense from the former, and was arrested at Childers' instigation a few days since.

By permission, we publish the following letter to Postmaster Evans, and do so that Dr. Tanbree's friends may know where to address him:

FORT DEFENSE, ARIZONA, July 23, 1887.

DEAR JOHN: We are here and getting settled to some extent. I don't like it worth a cent. Climate moderately pleasant, but too dry. Nothing grows here but inferior grass, small pines, evergreens, cactus, &c.

The Navajo reservation, including the Moguies, which belongs to this agency, is about 125 miles square, and there is not one thousand bushels of grain raised on the whole.

Vegetables and fruits can not be had at any price.

The Indians are twenty thousand in number.

One dollar will buy as much provisions in Kentucky as five will here.

It is thought that gold and silver are plentiful here in their undeveloped state. I have no doubts.

I have nothing to do but office practice, with an occasional call out in the village. Please send all my mail to this point.

Tell Spencer Cooper that I will write a letter for THE HERALD in a few days, as I will be very busy for ten days in visiting the dispensary supplies, &c. Tell him to send my paper without fail, as I certainly cannot stay here without it.

Give my love to all friends, and tell them to write me often. Write me a long letter at once.

Direct to Fort Defiance, Arizona Territory, Navajo Indian Agency.

Lovingly yours, &c.

J. B. TATLER.

The meeting at the Methodist Church in this place which commenced on Monday evening, July 20th, closed on last Tuesday night, the 23rd inst. Much interest was manifested during the meeting and to say that the house was packed at each service, would indeed hardly convey a comprehensive idea of the congregation.

During the time services were delivered by Revs. Demaree, Kendrick and Vance, but the attractive feature of the sermons was the lady preacher, Miss Mollie Morrison, who is a very earnest worker, and it being a new thing to see a lady in the pulpit, the multitude was in attendance on each and every session.

We did not hear it, but have seen told by many who were present, that Rev. J. A. Vance preached a very fine Bible sermon. Rev. Mr. Kendrick has many bright points in his pulpit charts. Rev. Mr. Eklar was earnest in his work, and all worked together for good.

The real estate agency of Conner & Hamilton last week sold a farm to James McGuire for $500, terms cash to cash. It had been in their hands only a few weeks, and a purchaser was found for it, which shows conclusively that to sell land to advantage you must place it in the market where it will be advertised.

In this connection it is necessary to state that the above firm a few days since took in another partner, and the firm will henceforth be known as Cooper, Herndon & Follen, general land agents.

With the accession of Charles Follen, the well known surveyor, this firm is better prepared to handle real estate than any similar agency in Kentucky, and those who wish to sell "quick for cash" will do well to consult them. It costs you nothing to advertise your land for sale in their agency, and if it is sold you get the cash for it.

ALLIE YOUNG'S WINCHESTERS.

One Hundred Dearly Winksters for His Body Guard to Morehead.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

MOUNT STERLING, KY., July 31.—For several days among other rumors circulated in regard to affairs at Morehead has been one that Z. T. Young, of this place, formerly of Morehead, had ordered one hundred more Winchester rifles to be shipped to Rowan county. Your correspondent called at Mr. Young's house this evening for the purpose of ascertaining from that man the truth or falsity of the rumor. Mr. Young was absent, but his wife was seen and talked freely, expressing a desire to be interviewed and correctly reported. She was upstairs when I called for Mr. Young, came to the door inquiring what was wanted, and apologized for her anxiety by saying that she was in a dreadful state of suspense in regard to her son Allie, who was arrested here several weeks ago for complicity in the Logan boys' murder at Morehead, and released on $2,000 bond to appear and answer any indictment that might be found against him by the Grand Jury of Rowan circuit court, which commenced on Tuesday, August 1st.

She said that since the arrest of Allie she and her husband had been fearful for his safety when he should go to Morehead in compliance with his bond, and that latterly they had been making efforts to have the Governor send troops to Morehead for protection. She stated that the party which has now control of Morehead (the party which killed the Tolliver crowd) were her husband's and son's bitterest enemies, and would shoot them down without mercy. She said that her husband was so fully satisfied of that that in no case would he consent to permit his sons to go to Morehead without protection, that their appeals to the Governor for troops had been in vain, and that Mr. Young, receiving numerous voluntary offers from various good citizens of Rowan, Elliott, Morgan and Bath counties to form part of a guard for Z. T. Young, his two sons and nephew, John Rogers, at Morehead, had purchased $1,300 worth of Winchester rifles, one hundred in number, with ammunition, for the purpose of arming the guard.

Mrs. Young further says that on Thursday last Allie left this place for Elliott county to meet the guard that would be gathered there and come back with it to Morehead; that her husband feared some rash action on the part of the guard, and preferred that Allie should be there in person to restrain it as much as possible. Allie accordingly left for Elliott, she says, and was seen and led from a distance by some of the Logan faction. It is thought that all this, the preparation of a guard, the purchase of rifles and ammunition and Allie's departure for Elliott took place before the Governor had consented to send the troops to Morehead. Mrs. Young is a most intelligent woman, with a timid, shrinking manner, and has evidently suffered much from anxiety during the progress of the feud. She is plainly, to a great extent, in her husband's control, and tells his side of the story in a most telling manner. She said that Logan, who has been in Mt. Sterling for several days during the past week, told her husband if he came to Morehead with a guard he would not live to get away from the depot. It is probable, however, Logan said to this Young more as a warning than a threat, for, though Logan is a dangerous man and the lion of the hour at Morehead, he is a remarkably calm and cool-headed young fellow, not at all the man to indulge in life threats.

It is thought that if troops go to Morehead and Young's private guard stay away there may be no difficulty; otherwise, that blood will need probably run like water. In the meantime, the hundred rifles and ammunition ordered by Young are now in the express office at this place, and that gentleman is thought to be making preparations to dispose of the private guard.

There are many accidents and diseases which affect stock and cause serious inconvenience and loss to the farmer. In his case, which is likely to be repeated, died by the use of Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment. Sold by H. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

HAZEL GREEN ACADEMY.

Fall Term Begins

Monday, September 5, 1887.

New, clean, large, well-ventilated buildings, furnished with new improved school furniture.

Full Corps Competent Teachers.

Tuition, Board and Incidental Expenses Reasonable.

For further information call on or address

Hazel Green Academy Co., Hazel Green, Wolfe county, Ky.

J. L. Dunlap, J. B. Dunlap, W. G. Barrett

DUNLAP BROS. & CO., WHOLESALE Saddlery, Saddlery, Harness, &c., AND DEALERS IN SADDLERY HARDWARE, 728 and 730 W. Main St., LOUISVILLE, KY.

Represented by BOB NUNNELLY

MONEY and return to us, and we will great value and importance to you that will start you in business which will bring you in more money right away than anything else in the world. Anyone can do the work and live at home. Either sex, all ages. Something new that will come money from all quarters. We will start you, capital not needed. This is one of the genuine, important chance of a lifetime. Those who are ambitious and enterprising will send for Grand outfit free. Address TRUE & CO. Augusta, Maine.

Smith P. Kerr, Manufacturer of Best Grades of Full Roller Flour, AND DEALER IN Grain, Feed, &c., WINCHESTER, KY. Guarantee Satisfaction in Grade and Price at all times.

J. T. & F. DAY, HAZEL GREEN, KY., are Sole Agents for Eastern Kentucky for KERR'S ROLLER MILL FLOUR, and carry a large supply of the following brands: PATTERSON, Wheat Extract, WHITE FLOUR, Patent Roller, MAGNOLIA, Roller Family, SILVER LAKE, Roller Family, GLOBE, Superior, upon which they quote prices and deliver at Hazel Green or Louisville Station.

State College of Kentucky, EIGHTEEN PROFESSORS AND INSTRUCTORS.

Agricultural and Mechanical, Scientific, Engineering, Classical, Normal School, Military Tactics, Commercial and Preparatory Courses of Study.

COUNTY APPOINTMENTS RECEIVED FREE OF TUITION.

Fall term begins SEPT. 14, 1887. For CATALOGUE and other information, address JAMES R. PATTERSON, Ph. D., Lexington, Kentucky.

Blue-grass Farm FOR SALE.

As my whole time is occupied with other duties, I offer for sale at private contract, my farm, Containing 145 Acres, or if desired, will add 65 acres more to it. Said farm is situated in Clark county, Ky., 4 1/2 miles east of Winchester, on the C. & O. Railroad. There is a comfortable dwelling house, good tobacco barn, stock barn and other buildings upon the place. Two good ponds and several springs furnish water for all purposes. About 25 acres is virgin soil, and except 20 acres, none of the place has been cultivated for 20 years. It is one of the BEST GRASS FARMS IN CLARK, and there is enough timber on it to fence it for 20 years. I will sell it at a bargain. Any one wishing to purchase a good and cheap home in Clark will do well to call and examine this farm before purchasing elsewhere. For further particulars, address C. B. FOX, Winchester, Ky., or SPENCER COOPER, Hazel Green, Ky.

Maytown Mill Co. MAYTOWN, KENTUCKY.

WOOL CARDING, Grinding and Sawing, Done promptly, and in workmanlike manner.

Flour, Meal, Feed and Lumber, For sale cheap for cash. Cash and note, W. W. MARKER, Manager.

NOTICE. All persons wanting blacksmithing of any or all kinds, square made or repaired, bugles, spring engines, plows, stock cutting tools, turning plows, repaired, plows made and laid, hoes, mauls, and horses shod in the best style, call on TYLER & DAVIS, Hazel Green, Ky.

Cummins & Son, ARTISTIC Boot and Shoe MAKERS, HAZEL GREEN, KY.

Are prepared to make to order in a superior style and on short notice Ladies' and Gent's Fine Shoes and Boots, in latest styles and of best material. Repairing will receive prompt attention and prices on all work be reasonable. Call and see us. CUMMINS & SON.

J. R. TUGGLE, WITH F. G. Ringgold & Co., JOBBERS OF Boots and Shoes, 95 and 97 WEST PEARL STREET, CINCINNATI, OHIO.

TRADERS DEPOSIT BANK, MT. STERLING, KY.

J. M. BIGSTAFF, President. W. W. THOMPSON, Cashier.

DIRECTORS: JAMES CHORN, ANDREW FARMER, DR. R. R. DRAKE, J. T. HORTON, and others.

OLD PAPERS FOR SALE at the office at 40 Cents per 100.

LOUIS STIX & CO., WHOLESALE DEALERS IN DRY GOODS, NOTIONS, THIRD, RACE & UNION STREETS, Cincinnati.

JAMES P. FANT, WITH THE Old Reliable Hat House, W. S. DICKINSON & CO., DEALERS IN GLOVES, UMBRELLAS, ETC., Corner Pearl and Vine, CINCINNATI, O.

Will always be found ready to attend to the wants of the patrons of the house. Thankful for past patronage, you are invited to call and see us when in the city, and Union-Fant promises to put on his best goods when waiting upon you.

G. H. Dean, Kite & Pollard, Importers and Wholesale Dealers in Queensware, Glassware, Lamps, &c., Decorated Dinner Tea and Chamber Ware, Northwest corner Pearl and Walnut Streets, CINCINNATI.

RICHARD HANKS & CO., WHOLESALE GROCERS, No. 29 Vine Street, CINCINNATI.

Abe Bloch & Co., Manufacturers and Wholesale Dealers in Men's, Youths', Boys' and Children's CLOTHING, 122 Vine Street, Cincinnati, O.

YOU can live at home and make more money at work for us, than at any other place in the world. Capital not needed. You are wanted free. Both men and women. Any one can do the work and live at home. Either sex, all ages. Something new that will come money from all quarters. We will start you, capital not needed. This is one of the genuine, important chance of a lifetime. Those who are ambitious and enterprising will send for Grand outfit free. Address TRUE & CO. Augusta, Maine.

OLD PAPERS FOR SALE at the office at 40 Cents per 100.

HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

PUBLISHED BY SPENCER COOPER.

Subscription: $1 a Year, And More for Paid in Advance.

TIME TABLE

Kentucky and East Atlantic Railway.
(Standard time 22 minutes slower than Mt. Sterling time.)
No. 1 leaves Mt. Sterling at 7 A. M., arrives at Louisville at 8:40 A. M.
No. 2 leaves Louisville at 9 A. M., arrives at Mt. Sterling at 10:50 A. M.
No. 3 leaves Mt. Sterling at 1:40 P. M., arrives at Louisville at 2:50 P. M.
No. 4 leaves Louisville at 3:45 P. M., arrives at Mt. Sterling at 4:50 P. M.
No. 5 connects at Mt. Sterling with 11:05 A. M. and 1:57 P. M. trains on C. & A. railway for Lexington, Cincinnati and Louisville.
No. 6 connects at Mt. Sterling with 11:05 A. M. train on C. & O. from the East, and 1:56 P. M. train from Louisville and Cincinnati.
Montgomery county court day special leaves Mt. Sterling on the 3rd Monday in each month at 7:30 A. M., arrives at Mt. Sterling at 9 A. M., returning leaves Mt. Sterling at 3 P. M., arriving at Louisville at 4:30 P. M.
Leaves Louisville for Mt. Sterling at 5 P. M.
GEO. B. HARTER, Supt.

LOCAL NEWS & CORRESPONDENCE.

Buckner is elected by 20,000 to 25,000.
Frank Fairchild and brother were in town Wednesday, from Magnolia.

Breathitt county gives Buckner 216 over Bradley, and Pleasant 312 over Brown.

Correspondents will please send each a new copy by next Monday's mail.

Prof. A. F. Erb, of Hazel Green Academy, arrived here on Wednesday evening last.

Menefee county is reported to have gone 375 majority for the Democratic State ticket.

Powell county gives, according to the report of Van Young, thirty majority for the Democratic State ticket.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Canfield, with their daughter Cora Lee, are visiting relatives and friends at this place.

Dr. Huerfano reports twenty-nine additions to the Presbyterian church during his three weeks' stay in the mountains.

The friends of J. W. McFarvey will regret to learn that he last week, at Lexington, lost his residence and furniture valued at $7,500, on which he had only an insurance of $1,500.

Our former friends and all others who have stock to sell, and also those who wish to buy, should remember that next Wednesday, August 10th, is the regular stock sale at this place.

Who knows if Joe Mulhann has ceased jockeying? It looks to me like Billie Polk, of Lexington, has won the championship. We vote to don't him the dough, the cake, and the bakery. Rally for Billie Polk.

Rev. Dr. E. O. Guernsey preached at the Presbyterian church in this place Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, and also in the evening. There was one addition to the church at the morning service, Mrs. John Blankenship.

The Democratic majority in Wolfe, on the State ticket, and for Pieratt, over Brown, is 312; the Prohibition vote was 54. Magnolia gave 220 Republican majority, and 204 for Brown over Pieratt. The latter is elected by about 500 majority.

Far better than the harsh treatment of medicine which formerly gripped the patient and destroyed the coating of the stomach. Dr. J. H. McLean's Chills and Fever Cure, by mild yet effective action will cure all fevers and chills. Sold by G. B. Savage, Hazel Green.

Jim Osborn, Dem., was last Monday elected county clerk in Menard, defeating Bogie Lyons, Rep., by a majority of eighty. Tom Cope was also running as a Democrat, but dropped out of the race early. The election was to fill the vacancy caused by the death of J. W. Davis.

FOR RENT.—The house and garden recently vacated by Dr. Tanbree is for rent to a tenant who can pay monthly in advance and give approved security for good care of premises. Apply to COOPER & HERNDON, Real Estate Agents.

The Courier-Journal estimates the Democratic majority in the State at 25,000 to 25,000, the Commercial puts at 18,000, and on Tuesday night Republicans of Louisville claimed Bradley's election. Fox's followers were few and far between, while the Union Labor ticket did not develop strong enough to lift a saw log.

We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to the marriage ceremony of James C. Rowland and Miss Fannie T. Gillespie, on Wednesday, August 10, at Mappsville, Accomack County, Va., and very much regret that we can not attend as the tying of the knot that will bind him to one of Accomack's fairest flowers. All the same we extend its warmest congratulations and best wishes to the happy young couple. Nothing would please us more than to be present, and at the same time see a host of whom we hold dear. We should also like to be at the reception at Baltimore, but we can't be at either place, we wish with pleasure and properly to give our best.

TROOPS CALLED FOR.

The Acting Judge of Rowan County Asks For the Militia.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial. LEXINGTON, KY., July 29.—The statement telegraphed the Associated Press from here last night to the effect that Gen. Custume and Adjutant Williams had reported adversely on sending troops to Rowan county proved to be incorrect.

Gov. Knott and Major McKee have just arrived in this city, and in a short interview the Governor said that no official recommendation had been made by the two gentlemen named in regard to the sending of troops, nor would there be. Messrs. Custume and Williams were simply sent to Morehead to investigate and report. The result is no troops will be sent unless it is found absolutely necessary.

Governor Knott, Major McKee and Judge Cole are in consultation here tonight in regard to sending troops to Morehead. Their deliberations are secret. It is just learned that an awful state of affairs exist in that unhappy town. All the people who can leave are getting ready to go, and tonight a number left on the east bound train, which passed through Morehead at 6:15. They have barricaded and nailed their hopes.

J. W. Auglin, the night telegraph operator at Morehead, claims to have been shot at last night, and this morning, as soon as Ed Brennan, the day operator, went on duty, Auglin picked his grip and left on the first east bound train. Brennan became frightened and left to-night.

H. W. Lightbourn, an operator who had been working in Colorado and Utah, left here this afternoon for Morehead to take charge of the office. He procured a fine revolver, and said the Rowan county men couldn't scare him off.

A. A. Gilkerson, formerly a telegraph operator at Morehead, left on the 11 o'clock express tonight for that place. In an interview just before leaving he said: "There is no doubt in my mind that the Tolliver faction will attempt to capture Morehead tonight. I left there this morning, and there were forty recruits and determined men guarding Morehead. Braver men never lived in Rowan county. It is the general opinion that the Tolliver men can raise 75 to 100 men, but that even they can not meet the men that is guarding the town. I saw trouble breaking before I left there this morning, and the patriots are afraid to send any of their number out to notify the Law and Order League of the surrounding country, for fear the Tolliver faction will waylay and kill them."

Governor Knott this morning received a dispatch from James Stuart, acting Judge of Rowan county, which reads as follows: "After cool consideration of affairs, I think it best that soldiers be sent here at once. As yet."

Gen. Custume's Report

Adjutant General Custume reached home yesterday from his Morehead trip. What his opinion is of the situation is fully set out in the following report to the Governor:

HEADQUARTERS KENTUCKY STATE GUARD, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, FRANKFORT, KY., July 29.—To His Excellency, Governor Knott—Sir: I have the honor to report that, in obedience to your orders, I have visited Rowan county and investigated the condition of affairs which have led Judge Cole and Sheriff Hays to apply for troops to aid the civil authorities in maintaining order at the approaching term of the Rowan Circuit Court.

On the 29th of June the large convention of Rowan county men met at Morehead, passed and signed resolutions unanimously pledging the maintenance of order and support of the authorities. It is apparent that there is no coherence in this body. Already new divisions are manifest. Some because of approaching political elections, some on account of business, others of old feuds, and others for reasons of new personal affiliations. Men who, shortly ago, were divided on the line of the "Martin" or the "Tolliver" faction, are now re-classified because of new animosities or friendships, moneyed influences. And thus the men hostilities to one side not long since are now found allied with adherents of the other side.

By consent and authority of the County Levy court, so I am informed, there have been summoned by the Sheriff a posse of twenty men, who are on duty as guard at Morehead. This party is composed of Republicans and Democrats. The Sheriff who summoned them is a Democrat. The Sheriff is not to be found at the county-seat, and the Town Marshal, a Republican, is in charge of the posse. In the temporary absence of the Town Marshal I stand the detail under the command of one of their number who is a Democrat. This party assumes to represent the purposes of the convention of the 29th of June. It is evident that its members are not controlled by political bias, and it is evident that they wish to act in good faith. From their number withdrawals have occurred because of alleged threats from outsiders.

Many of them, confident of their power, assert their ability to maintain the peace and order of the town. Some of their advisors, restored to temporary advantage, are sanguine of their power. But the body of the people does not share the confidence asserted by the posse, and they allege that the Sheriff is irresponsible.

The Criminal docket is well filled, and personal adherents of those indicted allege a purpose "to see their friends protected." Threats of attendance at court of armed bodies of men have excited the public apprehension, and it is alleged that much attendance is encouraged or directed by men whose duty it is to promote order and enforce law. The prevailing sentiment favors the presence of troops to prevent violence.

If troops be sent in obedience to the appeal of the Circuit Judge, I respectfully recommend that their use be limited to protection of the Court and to the maintenance of order in Morehead, and that the civil authorities be required to do for themselves all other duty.

The pains which your Excellency has taken to personally investigate disorders in Rowan county satisfy you of the needlessness of a temporary enforcement of order, without the permanent benefits of the enforcement of law. I wish to reflect unjustly on none, but certainly it is true that most of our disorders come from neglect of officials to perform their duty.

It is too often true that the law is not enforced; that justice is not law, and that jury commissioners are not well chosen as ought to be, and that neither Judge or Prosecuting Attorney, or Sheriff, or Jailor execute fearlessly and without favor the law.

So it is that criminals do not fear punishment for crime, and there is a constant system of education as to the methods of crime—crimes that aid the technical advantages and official favors which bring probation to him who violates the law.

In Rowan county the people have grown to believe that the machinery of the law has been used to protect favorites and to punish enemies, and distrust of the law prevails and life and property are too often subject to the designs of the unprincipled. I have the honor to remain, dear Sir, yours very truly,

JOHN B. CASTLEMAN, Colonel and Acting Adjutant General.

MORGAN COUNTY.

EXPL. Aug. 1.—Most of the wells in this place are dry, and the owners are having them re bored. Last week Hollie Nickell was working in J. M. Pieratt's well and became sick or exhausted by foul air. A rope was put around his body and he was drawn from the well, but it was some time before he was restored to consciousness.

D. G. Conbs has just returned from Pain Branch, where he closed a meeting with forty-seven additions to the church.

Born.—To the wife of Wm. Creekbaum, on the 26th inst., a boy—John Smith.

Robert Nickell is visiting near Charlie Fields, at this place. He brought with him an educated dog, that will go to the post office and bring home the mail with as much tidiness as a colored porter.

W. B. Jenkins has been shooting some big Baptist guns here the past week. He closed his avocations last Sunday.

J. R. Cress and family, Miss Willie Sample and Ed. Christian, left last week on a visit to Tazewell county, Va.

WANTED.—A good agent of either sex in all principal towns and cities in the U. S. to take orders for our new patent low priced solid Bronze or Nickel Door Plates, door bells, door knobs, etc. From $100 to $500 can be made in a very short time. Fine outfit for samples FREE. Write for proof of what agents are doing and list of unoccupied territory. It will pay you to do so. We refer to the editor of this paper who has purchased one of our plates.

MICHIGAN DOOR PLATE CO., Grand Rapids, Mich.

WARREN & CO.
Manufacturers and Wholesale Dealers in
Boots and Shoes,
No. 611 Main Street, 10 Summer St.,
Louisville, Ky. Boston, Mass.
Represented by J. B. Blackburn.

Exchange Bank of Kentucky,
ESTABLISHED IN 1826.
Capital Stock, $100,000.—
SURPLUS, $15,414.28.

Does a general banking business, and is the only bank in the city that sells Foreign Exchange.
Prompt attention given to the collection of debts, and the payment of the people's drafts, by the most expeditious and reliable means.
J. G. TRIMBLE, President.
LESLIE THOMPSON, Cashier.
—MT. STERLING, KY.—

D. LANDELL'S
ASTHMA
AND CATARRH
REMEDY.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Having struggled 20 years between life and death with ASTHMA or PHTHIRIS, treated by eminent physicians, and receiving no benefit, I was compelled during the last 5 years of my illness to sit on my chair day and night, gasping for breath. My sufferings were beyond description. In despair I experimented on myself by compounding roots and infusing the medicine thus obtained. I fortunately discovered this WONDERFUL CURE FOR ASTHMA AND CATARRH, warranted to relieve the most stubborn case of ASTHMA IN FIVE MINUTES, so that the patient can lie down to rest and sleep comfortably. Please read the following condensed extracts from unsolicited testimonials, all of recent date:

Oliver V. R. Holmes, San Jose, Cal., writes: "I find the Remedy all and even more than represented. I receive instantaneous relief."

Dr. M. Carson, M. D., Warren, Kan., writes: "Was treated by eminent physicians of this country and Germany: tried the climate of different States—nothing afforded relief like your preparation."

L. B. Phelps, P. M., Griggs, Ohio, writes: "Suffered with Asthma 40 years. Your medicine in 3 minutes does more for me than the most eminent physician did for me in three years."

H. C. Plimpton, Joliet, Ill., writes: "Send Catarrh Remedy at once. Cannot get along without it. I find it to be the most valuable medicine I have ever tried."

We have many other hearty testimonials of cure or relief, and in order that all sufferers from Asthma, Catarrh, Hay Fever, and kindred diseases may have an opportunity of testing the value of the Remedy we will send to any address TRIAL PACKAGE FREE OF CHARGE. If your druggist fails to keep it do not permit him to sell you some worthless imitation but send directly to us, as best as good, but send directly to us.

Write your name and address plainly. Address, J. ZIMMERMAN & Co., Props., Wholesale Druggists, Waukegan, Wayne Co., Ohio. Full size box by mail $1.00. Joliet, Ill.

W. H. BUCKLEY, TAYLOR. W. W. BINGO.

Tabor & Ringo's
DAILY
Hack Line BETWEEN
Rothwell Station and Hazel Green.

Connects with trains on Ky. & A. railroad morning and evening, 7:30.

Fare $2. Every Attention to Ladies & Children.

Se. Leave Hazel Green 6 A. M., ar. Rothwell 2 P. M. Lv. Rothwell 2 P. M., ar. Hazel Green 6 P. M. Comfortable hacks and careful drivers.

But buy Kelly's STEEL AXE. It is the most perfect axe made. Also have STEEL HORSE SHOES. They will outwear iron. And use STEEL nails. They cost less and are stronger. For sale in Hazel Green by

G. B. MANSWANG, W. T. SAWYER, and J. B. MCGHEE.

Chiles, Thompson & Co.,
MT. STERLING, KY.,
Agents for Eastern Kentucky.

S. V. McWilliams & Co.,
NEW
Livery, Sale and Feed Stable,
MT. STERLING, KY.

Drovers' and Traders' Headquarters.

The attention of horse and mule dealers is especially invited to our facilities for the handling of stock, and we invite all traders of Wolfe and adjoining counties to call on us when in the city.

J. T. GEVEDON, THE JEWELER.
—BEST GOODS FOR LEAST MONEY—
An hour located near BIRMINGHAM, KY., and am prepared to repair JEWELRY, JEWELRY, SEWING MACHINES, CLOCKS, etc. Charges reasonable and work warranted. I have the best Bellows Plate Jewelry, such as Bracelets, Laces Pins, Scarf Pins, etc. If you want a solid gold ring, I can save you money. In fact, if you want a silver or gold watch or clock, or anything in my line, you surely will save money by purchasing of me. I shall keep on hand fine silver, Photo-graph Albums, School Books, etc. I also keep for sale Dr. T. B. Smith's Liniment and Healing Ointment. And try the soap if you want your skin to look pretty. I also keep the best sewing machine oil and needles. I also keep the Hazel Green Stock Sales and the West Liberty

BRINKLEY & GRUBBS, DEALERS IN

STOVES, TIN-PLATE,

SHEET IRON,

Tinners' Stock, Mantels, Etc.,

And Manufacturers of Plain, Stamped and Japanned Tinware,
602 WEST MAIN STREET,
AND 201 TO 207 7th St.,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

G. GEORGE E. TUCK,
Louisville, Ky., with

GREEN, HUFFAKER & CO.,
Wholesale Dealers in
BOOTS AND SHOES,
615 W. Main St., LOUISVILLE, KY.

Invite you to call and see him when you visit the city.

H. J. CLARKE,
WITH

Sievers-Carlson

HARDWARE CO.

637 West Main Street,
LOUISVILLE, Ky.

W. A. WORD,
WITH

Harbison & Cathright,
SADDLERY,
HARNES AND COLLARS,
707, 709 & 711 W. MAIN STREET,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

JOE R. TURNER,
Headquarters Mt. Sterling, Ky.,
REPRESENTING

Green, Huffaker & Co.,
Wholesale Dealers in
BOOTS AND SHOES,
615 W. Main St., LOUISVILLE, KY.

Will be at Mt. Sterling every County Court.

SPENCER COOPER, H. C. HERNDON,
CHAS. M. FAIRLEY.

COOPER, HERNDON & FAIRLEY,
GENERAL

Land & Agents,

HAZEL GREEN, KY.

Have the following parties which wish to sell at once, and parties desiring to secure large tracts will find it to their interest to inspect the property. We will trade some of it for blue grass land. Write us.

No. 1.—75 acres of land on Laurel Creek, Wolfe county, 4 1/2 miles from Hazel Green. Good dwelling house and out buildings, well watered, good timber, fine apple orchard, land very rich.

No. 2.—One two story dwelling built in 1881, containing six rooms, good out buildings, a well of never-failing water, beautiful grounds, well set with trees and valuable shrubbery and a fine assortment of fruit, grapes, etc. The best garden in town, one of the most desirable places to live in and in Hazel Green. Situated on the height leading to the celebrated Swamp Springs. About halfway between the center of town and the Springs.

No. 3.—315 acres of land on Taylor Creek 2 miles south of Hazel Green, or main road to Lexington, has about 200 acres of good timber, and an inexhaustible quantity of the finest quality of split and buntions and some fine quality of round coal.

No. 4.—100 acres of land 2 miles south of Hazel Green, fine farming land, 50 acres in cultivation, nearly all bottom land, in good neighborhood and convenient to schools and churches.

No. 5.—500 acres of land, the survey beginning on the Standing Rock corner at Lee Powell and Wolfe counties, 10 miles from Canaan, on the head waters of the Graining Fork of Red River. It is entirely new and has never been settled. It is a popular oak, walnut, hickory and chestnut timber.

No. 7.—40 acres of land, most of which lies in the corporate limits of Hazel Green, on the road leading from town to Swamp Springs, John No. 3, known as the Mrs. Ella Trimble tract. Can be laid off into the most desirable town lots in Hazel Green. It is newly fenced and in cultivation.

No. 8.—One house and lot in Northwest Hazel Green, near the common school building, good new dwelling house with four rooms, good outbuildings, garden, etc.

No. 9.—2,000 acres of land on Kentucky River and Frozen Creek, Breathitt county, 15 miles below Jackson, on the surveyed line of the Kentucky Union and Chestnut and Southeastern railroads. It is covered with a heavy forest of the finest timber in the State, including oak, walnut, poplar, ash, etc., and is underlaid with inexhaustible veins of coal and bituminous coal.

No. 10.—About 87 acres of land on Lacy Creek 1 1/2 miles from Hazel Green, has a good house, is well fenced, about 30 acres of grass, an apple orchard, some timber, is well watered and is good farming land.